

Warrior Trails

Only a few weeks ago Torrance High was stunned with the tragedy of several of its Tartars being killed in a car accident. This week, it is the Warriors who are shocked by the tragic accident that claimed the life of a fellow student and 1967 graduate of West, as well as three others.

No one can ever foresee accidents of the future. When accidents occur such as this one, along with several in the past, and hit so close to home, it becomes necessary to look ahead to prevent what may happen in the future.

High school students in Torrance are fortunate. Driver's training classes exist in each of the high schools and this class is required for graduation. Students have often commented, "We don't learn anything in that class. It's pretty stupid."

IDEALISTIC as it may sound, students can learn safety in these classes. However, a worthwhile learning experience can only be gotten if the student puts forth the effort to learn to drive correctly and if he uses safety precautions. The community that we live in spends quite a lot of money so students may benefit from these courses. When we neglect to follow through and remember what we have learned, serious consequences result.

THERE IS NOT too much one can do after an accident has happened. In fact, there is not too much one can do as the accident is taking place. A person can only be sure of achieving something before the accident and only by thinking ahead and avoiding hazards.

People are always affected by deaths, especially when they involve those you know. Warriors have been acquainted with a few included in the vital statistics column. These few have been far too many. Are we really wishing for too much when we hope that there will be no other casualties? Trails End.

South Side

Senior Peggy Gohl has been accepted to the "Kids Next Door," a singing group associated with "The Young Americans."

During Easter vacation Peggy was informed of try-outs in the Los Angeles area. She was one of 15 candidates singing as a solo, "Hard-Hearted Hanna." She also had to demonstrate a dance step (she chose the Charleston) but had a time doing it for she recently broke her foot and had just had the cast removed.

Peggy starred as Annie Oakley in South's '67 spring production, "Annie Get Your Gun," and is now cast as Bloody Mary in the '68 school play, "South Pacific." Last summer she was offered a job singing at Disneyland. She was asked to begin work immediately, if possible, but Peggy explained she wouldn't graduate until June. The offer was then extended until the first day after commencement.

"THE KIDS Next Door" have appeared on such variety shows as the "Dean Martin Show," but mainly tour the country giving live performances.

Pep Squad for next year has been in the process of being selected this week. Monday, judges chose the semi-finalists for Varsity yell leader and song queen. These junior and senior girls performed their routines for the entire student body today.

SIX CHEERLEADERS and eight song queen finalists will be selected by the school tomorrow when voting is completed. Tuesday, judges selected the girls for Junior-Varsity and Bee yell leaders, the six flag twirlers, four majorettes, ten for the Precision Team, and the Drill Team. These are not voted on by the student body.

The annual foreign language Banquet will be Friday in the cafeteria. Each foreign language club — French, German, Latin, and Spanish — performs a skit, dance, or song from that particular country. Those attending wear a costume characteristic of that country, and each club presents a prize for the best costume. The dinner is a mixture of foods from each country represented at the banquet.
